

Personas and User Stories

Personas

1) Name: Anne McDonalds

Gender: woman

Age: 20

Description: Anne does not have any digestive disorders but is interested in helping out the initiative by making public washroom locations more known.

2) Name: Bob McBobbington

Gender: man

Age: 36

Description: Bob has Crohn's disease and is anxious to go outside at times due to not knowing if there would be access to bathrooms on the way to unfamiliar locations. He does not have any other accessibility issues.

3) Name: Candy Smush

Description: Candy Smush is a large mobile-game company that regularly funds and sponsors the GoHere program. Since the company has donated so much, they are wanting to see some recognition in-app.

4) Name: Bruce Wayne

Gender: man

Age: 32

Description: Bruce owns a business in Toronto called Dairy Escape, where he has multiple publicly available washrooms. He has many customers that use the washrooms due to lactose intolerance and sees no harm in opening his doors to those with Crohn's disease.

5) Name: Emma Evergreen

Gender: woman

Age: 27

Description: Emma is an administrator for the GoHere mobile application. Her main duties are pushing important updates and announcements to users through the app.

User Stories

1. As a regular toilet user, Anne McDonalds wants to add all the publicly available McDonalds washrooms in Toronto into the app.
2. As a regular toilet user, Bob McBobbington wants to submit information on how one of the listed washrooms is unavailable due to the business being temporarily closed.
3. As a person who cares about Crohn's and colitis, Anne McDonalds wants to rate the GoHere mobile app on the Google Play Store via a prompt through the app.
4. As a business owner, Bruce Wayne wants to join the “Go Here Program” through the mobile app so that it’s publicly known that anyone can use the washrooms at his business.
5. As a person who cares about Crohn's and colitis, Anne McDonalds wants to make donations to the Go Here Program through the mobile application.
6. As a large sponsor, Candy Smush wants to gain recognition for their contributions.
7. As an admin of the GoHere program, Emma Evergreen wants to post announcements in real time about new features in the app so that others can get a better experience in using it.